

The Blaine kite is not so high but that another kite can go higher.

Should Mr. Tilden be nominated, there will be a glimmer of hope that he will continue his earthly existence till after the election.

Mr. Blaine has said that he was not a candidate for the presidency, but it begins to look as if he might be regarded as a possible candidate for that office.

Judge Lynch is getting in his work pretty well. While justice seems to slumber and sleep, the judge is looking around for some one to hang, and he generally finds his prey.

Fitzgerald receives $8,400 for his six-day walk; Rowell, $3,280; Panchob, $1,720; Norcross, $1,050; Hertz, $750; Vint, $500; and Elson, $450. The score of Fitzgerald was 610 miles; that of Rowell 602.

The New York Tribune won't let up on its mud-throwing at Senator Edmunds and other republican candidates for the presidency. But this is not the first time the Tribune has attempted to kick the republican party.

Charles Reade worked his whole life with his pen and wrote many good novels, and accumulated a fortune of $100,000. Henry Irving played upon the stage in America six months, and made $150,000 clear of expenses.

General Butler will be a delegate to the democratic national convention, and the Chicago Times thinks his speech is nominating General Butler for the presidency. Butler can endorse himself better than any one else can.

There is one grand thing about President Arthur—he cares more for the success of the republican party than for his own success. Some of the other candidates would do well to follow the example of the president.

Wait till the eighth or ninth ballot in the republican national convention, with no choice, and the body at a fever heat; then let some one shout Sherman and Lincoln. The thing will be like wild fire, the general will be nominated, and his march to the white house will be swifter and wider than his march to the sea.

One of the largest Philadelphia jobbers says that very nearly one-half of all the silks sold in the United States are of home manufacture, spun by American bred silk worms and woven on American made looms. This shows the direct benefit of home production. Without it, the entire manufacture of silks would be discouraging business.

The Milwaukee Sunday Telegraph comes to us in a new dress and with a beautifully engraved heading—one that is exceedingly befitting the paper and very attractive. The Sunday Telegraph is an admirable family journal, and the Gazette is glad that it is fast winning friends and making money. It richly deserves both.

The house committee has finished the appropriation bill for the rivers and harbors. The bill calls for $12,441,000, of which $9,300,000 is given to the Mississippi, $900,000 for the Missouri, $600,000 for removing obstructions from the Ohio, and $300,000 for improving the canal at Louisville. The committee left out all the creeks which the committee of two years ago put in. Had the Forty-seventh congress been as wise in this regard as the present one, there would not have been a democratic congress to-day.

Another millionaire's daughter has eloped with her father's coachman. She is the daughter of C. J. Whitney, of Detroit, and went to Toledo, where they were married by a justice of the peace. When the enraged father heard of the elopement, he procured a special train and flew toward Toledo at the rate of a mile a minute, but reached there too late to stop the marriage. Neville, the coachman, had been in Whitney's employ but a few days, and has a wife and two children in England. At last accounts, the whereabouts of the runaway couple had not been ascertained, as they had left Toledo before Mr. Whitney reached there.

The New York Tribune's table of delegates to the republican national convention gives Blaine 379 votes; the Philadelphia Press gives him 367; the New York Sun, 353; the New York Times, 340; the Philadelphia Times, 298. The Philadelphia Press gives Arthur 292 votes; the New York Sun, 218; and the New York Times, 287. The other candidates, Edmunds, Logan, Sherman, Gresham and Hawley, are given by the Philadelphia Times an aggregate vote of 153, and 98 votes are classed as uncertain. These estimates are made by papers that are unfriendly to the president, and therefore do not do him justice. The Arthur men claim for him all the way from 850 to 420 votes.

The first session of the house of representatives of the Forty-eighth congress, under the management of the democratic party, has become notorious for shirking work and responsibility. It has done nothing and probably will not do anything. The democratic papers show very little patience with the present house. The New York World declares that the stupidity and inactivity of the present house has not been equaled by that of any congress since the war, and even the Louisville Courier Journal, which is usually a thick and thin supporter of anything labeled democracy, rather sharply lectures its democratic brethren in the house on the backward condition of legislation at so important a season, both in business and political affairs. But all this comes not unexpected.

It is not a different congress than the preceding democratic congresses. It is the same old story—a general blundering, and a lack of courage to throw off the party yoke, and brace up and do something for the benefit of the country.

The brewers' association of the United States have issued a pretentious pamphlet of 108 pages, which attempts to show the real and imaginary effects of intemperance. It contains letters and statements from superintendents of eighty American insane asylums, the history of 500 inebriates, and the history of 671 paupers. The object of the book is to show that beer and whiskey have been charged with many crimes for which they are not responsible; that a large majority of the cases of pauperism and insanity are chargeable to other causes than drink. This argument may be true, but the fact remains that intemperance, as a rule, creates more paupers and more cases of insanity, than any other one agency. But the brewers' association discusses one of the most important questions connected with intemperance—the misery and want that it brings upon innocent wives and children. The experience of every community is, that the worst effects of drunkenness is seen at the homes of the poor, when the fathers of these homes happen to be drunkards. Here we find the saddest results of intemperance, but the brewers' association was very careful not to discuss the question.

THE ANGRY ELEMENTS.

A Strong Cyclone Visits Portions of Iowa and Illinois.

One Man Killed in Davenport, and Considerable Damage Done—At Rock Island and Springfield—Forest Fires.

DAVENPORT, Iowa, May 6.—At 4:40 P.M. day a strong wind struck the lower end of the city, coming from the northeast. The wind was accompanied by a heavy rain, vivid flashes of lightning, and loud peals of thunder. The first place the wind struck was the Reister Lumber company's yard, where a stack of lumber was blown over, and piles of lumber blown over the boards being carried a great distance by the wind. The next place the storm struck was on Third street, a block above, where the roof of an apartment-house was lifted off and carried some forty feet. Numerous windows were blown in, fences leveled, and out-houses were blown down.

Hans Christensen, while crossing the street in the vicinity of the lumber-yard, was instantly killed by a flying board.

There were numerous accidents and severe injuries.

Rock Island, Ills., May 6.—A very severe wind and rain storm visited the city about 5 o'clock in the evening. The rain fell in torrents and the storm lasted about an hour. Considerable damage was done by the wind. Trees, chimneys, and roofs of houses were blown away.

Springfield, Ills., May 6.—A hailstorm passed over Springfield in the early morning, resulting in considerable damage to the fruit trees now in bloom and to the early gardens.

Losses by the Forest Fires.

PRUSSIAN, May 6.—Ralph Hagley, president of the Arthur Lumber company, of this city, has returned from the scene of the conflagration in Elk county, and reports the destruction great. He estimates the loss in Elk county alone at over $1,000,000. The heaviest losses are the mill-owners. Hall & Kaul, of Pine Run, suffer to the extent of $50,000, and De M. Otto, of Milwaukee, $50,000. The mill of William Goetz, at Swiss Mount, was entirely destroyed, together with a number of buildings and a large stock of lumber. Goetz has been missing since Thursday, and it is believed he perished.

Poison in the Coffee-Cup.

NEW YORK, May 6.—According to a published report, Saturday Supplement, the day of the health department, recently presented to the commissioners a report embodying the results of an investigation into the dangerous adulterations of green coffee. A careful analysis of the coloring matter led to the conclusion that every cup of coffee made from the colored beans which are put upon the market as Java contains one-sixteenth of a grain of arsenious acid, which is a violent poison.

Another interview with the president of the coffee exchange, in an interview said that while it was perfectly well known that coffee was colored and polished for the purpose of making it more salable and possibly for purposes of deceiving the general public in the coffee trade was that no deleterious ingredients were used in the process. Some of the small retail dealers do not know the difference between pure and adulterated coffee; but the best grocers are becoming wiser.

Receiver Appointed for The News-Journal.

CINCINNATI, May 6.—Manager Charles M. Steele has been appointed receiver of The News-Journal. The application was made Saturday on behalf of John H. Putnam, the collateral correspondent of the paper, for a balance of $200 on salary. It is estimated that the debts of the concern will aggregate $100,000, the greater part of which was incurred before Mr. Steele, the present manager, took charge of the paper. The bond was fixed at $50,000, which was given.

In Business Troubles.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Henry J. Hart & Co., wholesale dealers in upholstery goods, at 89 Union square, have made an assignment, giving preferences for $95,374. Their total liabilities are estimated at $125,000, and nominal assets more than the liabilities.

CINCINNATI, May 6.—John W. Nix, boot and shoe dealer, has assigned for the benefit of his creditors. Liabilities, $1,000; assets about the same.

Instructed for Harrison.

PINEBLUFF, Ills., May 6.—The Perry county Democratic convention instructed the state delegates for Harrison for governor, State of St. Clair, for lieutenant governor, and W. K. Murphy for congressman from the Twentieth district, and J. J. Higgins for the state senate from the Forty-eighth district. The convention was large and enthusiastic. Tilden's name was received with loud and long applause.

METHODIST CONFERENCES.

The General Meeting at Philadelphia Seeking to Clean the News.

PHILADELPHIA, May 6.—In the Methodist general conference, the chairman and secretaries announced the committee on Episcopacy, itinerancy, boundaries, revisals, temporal economy, state of the church, book concerns, missions, education, church extension, Sunday schools and tracts, and freed men's aid in the south. This business being concluded the roll of conferences was called to allow of the presentation of appeals, resolutions and general business. When central Ohio was called, Rev. D. Rutledge offered a resolution declaring that the surplus profits of the book concerns having been set apart for the support of traveling preachers and their families, no part of that fund should be used for any part of the expenses of their conference; referred.

Rev. C. C. McCabe moved that May 7 be appointed as the date for the election of bishops and other general conference officers. An excited discussion followed, many members wishing to have the election proceeded with at once to obviate what they termed "log-rolling" and "twine-pulling." Mr. Hatfield was especially vehement in his denunciation of anything like "electioneering" and said that the newspapers were already full of the slugs of the political conversions regarding the methods of the conference.

The address of the bishops was then read. It recounted briefly the history of Methodism in this country, the prosperous growth of the book concern, the good work done by the Methodist colleges and universities during the past year and dwelt at some length on the efforts being made in the cause of better education in the south. The temperance question was briefly alluded to and increased stringency in the laws relating to divorce was recommended. A resolution to appoint a special committee of twenty-five to consider the centennial celebration to be held at Baltimore, December, 1884, was adopted.

African M. E. Conference.

BALTIMORE, May 6.—The general conference of the African M. E. church is in session here with a large attendance. After the usual religious exercises the business of the conference was taken up. Bishop Payne presiding. A committee on credentials was appointed, to whom were referred the disputed election of officers, which resulted as follows: Chief secretary, Rev. M. R. Bryant, of Alabama; recording secretary, Rev. C. D. Nelson, of South Carolina; first assistant secretary, Rev. R. W. Gaines, of Missouri; second assistant, Rev. C. A. Ashby, of Pennsylvania. Rev. B. E. Gaines, of North Carolina, is the reading clerk and W. D. Johnson, of Georgia, organizing clerk.

How to Get Clean News.

CINCINNATI, May 6.—At the weekly meeting of the Methodist ministers of Cincinnati, Covington, Newport and vicinity, at the Methodist book concern, Rev. Geo. Weaver read a long paper on the question of how to secure clean newspapers and suppress vile literature.

Rev. J. D. Walsh, pastor of Main Street M. E. church, Covington, reported in behalf of a committee of three, a course of action, as follows:

1. All Methodist ministers of Cincinnati and vicinity to preach on the subject on Sunday, not to be named, and to address the main members of their churches in a separate meeting.
2. The Methodist preachers meeting to petition all daily newspapers of the city to tone down their criminal reports and rule on Sunday scandals and filthy ads.
3. Prospective those found guilty of publishing manifestly evil literature; and
4. Appoint a committee of nine to present the petition to the newspapers, get their answer, look up facts about vile literature, and report.

This plan of action will be the subject of discussion next Monday morning.

A New Produce Exchange Building.

NEW YORK, May 6.—One of the most brilliant social events of the season was the reception given in the new produce exchange building. The great hall, which has a floor surface of three-quarters of an acre, was finely decorated with flowers and flags. The reception and promenade began at 8 o'clock, and lasted until midnight. A very elaborate musical programme was provided, and finely rendered by Coppola's military band. The imposing looking buildings devoted to business purposes in the country. Its structure was commenced in May, 1881. The total cost amounted to about $5,000,000. The large part of the exchange is fully equipped with all the appliances necessary to carry on with the greatest facility the immense volume of trade now transacted.

Down on the Bucket Shops.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Judge Cullen, in Brooklyn, has dissolved an injunction which restrained the Commercial Telegraph company from removing its stock indices from C. H. Martin's office in this city. Martin furnishes the quotations to bucket shops. The judge says that while the company is bound to serve the public without discrimination against individuals, the fact that Martin is engaged in a purely gambling business deprives him of the protection of a court of equity. Similar decisions were rendered in the cases of Hubbell and Houtman vs. the Gold & Stock company.

Civil Service Reform.

RICHMOND, Va., May 6.—The grand jury has indicted Charles M. Loutham, superintendent of the county of Clarke county, for participation in a political conspiracy. This is the first indictment under the law passed by the last legislature. Loutham was a delegate to the Coalition convention. This is a test case, and involves the constitutionality of an interesting Democratic enactment.

Charles O'Connor Seriously Ill.

DENVER, May 6.—It is reported from Nauvok that Charles O'Connor, the great New York lawyer, is quite ill.

SIX POLITICIANS,

And Their Remarks Aneant the Republican Situation.

Remarkable Development of "Don't Know" in Presumed Well-Informed Circles—Discussing the Blaine Outlook.

CHICAGO, May 6.—The Times has the following:

Senator Jerome B. Chaffee, of Colorado, was at the Grand Pacific hotel, on route for Washington. To a reporter he said: "Colorado is solid for Blaine, more so than any other state. Why, a man walked thirty miles on snow-shoes in order to come to the convention and vote for Blaine delegates."

Now, Mr. Chaffee was a Grant man in 1868, is a "Stalwart" and has been lately claimed by Logan. He is credited with being able to throw his state as he wishes, and in consequence the reporter was anxious to know the cause of this sudden change.

"Don't ask me," he replied; "I am so mixed up I don't know what to think. All I know is that Colorado is solid for Blaine."

Is it true that all of the old Stalwarts are swinging with Blaine, having become disgusted with Arthur?

"I am sure I don't know; I don't care to be interviewed on that. There is no doubt, though, that there is a strong Blaine feeling in the country, and it is being expressed by men who were formerly hostile to him. In Colorado it is a spontaneous eruption; no one is engineering it."

Assistant Postmaster General Hutton was seen around the corridors of the Grand Pacific. In spite of the victory claimed by the Blaine faction in Iowa, Mr. Hutton is still confident of obtaining some votes for Arthur from that state and thus expressed himself to a reporter: "The Blaine papers claim a victory in Iowa, and say that all the Iowa delegates will be for Blaine, but you will notice that instructions were not given, except in one district, although they were offered and voted down in all."

"How many anti-Blaine votes will there be from Iowa then?"

"I can't tell, but there will be some." Senator Babin, chairman of the national Republican committee, was in town, but refused to talk politics. He professed a profound ignorance of all the details of the coming convention, saying that they were left to sub-committees, and was in all things grandly and wisely mysterious. The senator's friends say he is beginning to regard himself as a presidential possibility, and is assuming to consequence a bearing which he deems proper for such a contingency.

Senator Chaffee, of Colorado, Edward Sanderson, Republican delegate-at-large from Wisconsin, and "Long" Jones were sitting around the same spittoon at the Grand Pacific, and talking politics, of course.

"I'll be a new hat," said Sanderson, "that none of the four prominent candidates before the Republican convention will be nominated."

"You mean Blaine, Arthur, Edmunds, and Logan?" asked Senator Chaffee.

"Yes."

"I'll take the bat," said "Long" Jones.

"They say Wisconsin is for Blaine," said the senator.

"Yes it is," said Sanderson.

"No is credited with sixteen votes from there."

"He won't get more than six; where the rest will go I don't know or anyone else, but they are not for Blaine. They are going for the winner, and Wisconsin is so far down on the roll-call that they have a good chance of striking him."

"These Blaine men are claiming too much," interpreted "Long" Jones. "Some one asked me what Blaine and Chaffee were doing here and I told that the Blaine men were so sure that their man was going to get it that it was thought useless to hold a convention, and they were here to get back $3,000 that had already been spent in preparation."

"Lincoln will be the nominee," said Sanderson.

"It would be a most foolish and silly thing to nominate Lincoln," said Chaffee. "He has not got a single influence which entitles him to the nomination."

"To can carry New York," claimed the delegate from Wisconsin.

"If you prove that to the convention he can be nominated on the first ballot," replied the senator. "There are no serious differences in the party now, and any man who the convention think can carry New York will be nominated. Are you people in Wisconsin pressing Fairchild?"

"No."

RIOTOUS COLORED PEOPLE.

They "Cut Up Rough" at a Holiday Parade—Great Excitement.

NORFOLK, Va., May 6.—The fifth anniversary of the organization of the First Virginia Battalion of colored troops in this city brought a number of colored military companies here from all parts of the state to take part in the celebration, which consisted of a grand parade and banquet. Marched to the banquet the companies were met by a large crowd of whites and colored people. At least 5,000 negroes followed them, and so obstructed the ground that the major commanding the battalion had to call on the police to clear the way. That they proceeded to do, when they were set upon by the mob with stones, and brutally assaulted. Six policemen and one citizen were knocked down, the blows being so violent that two of the police were rendered senseless and disabled by the mob. The colored soldiers would offer no assistance to the police, and it was only after a hard fight that five of the leaders were arrested and locked up for attempting to create a riot. The entire police force of the city has been ordered on duty. The city is in a terrible state of excitement.

THE BADGER STOVE COMPANY!

Badger Cooking Stoves and Ranges,

Under the Griswold & Holloway patents. WILL BURN HARD COAL, SOFT COAL OR WOOD. These stoves have been THOROUGHLY TESTED, and their ability to fully endorse by every one using them. We have now about thirty families using them in the city and vicinity, and report by permission to each and every one in regard to them.

WHAT WE CLAIM FOR THEM.

- FIRST—Novelty of Construction, being a radical departure from old principles and constructions. Nothing like it in the market.
- SECOND—Ease of Management, whereby a continuous fire can be kept up as easily as in the best base burning stoves.
- THIRD—Rapid and uniform heating of oven and new system of ventilating same; also heating quickly all inside holes for cooking purposes.
- FOURTH—Economy in fuel, produced by conveying the products of combustion where most needed.
- FIFTH—Durability. The Fire Pot being cylindrical, consequently being much stronger, and draft through same unimpeded.
- SIXTH—Cleanliness. Having an extra large ash Pan, entirely enclosed within walls of stove, and so arranged to receive all refuse from grate.

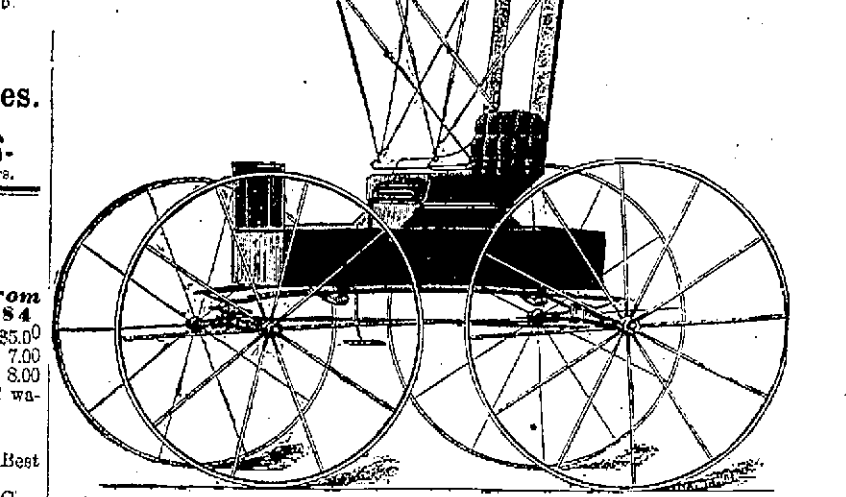

These Stoves and Ranges are now on sale in Janesville by John Griffiths, West Milwaukee St., or N. Griswold, 56 North Main Street.

—Hon. J. B. Cossady, of Madison, associate justice of the supreme court of Wisconsin, was in the city a few hours this forenoon, returning to Madison at noon.

—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Buchholz, North Main street, was made the happier on Sunday morning by the safe arrival of a handsome boy baby, and the captain is more enthusiastic over his steamboat "enterprise" now than ever before.

—Colonel William F. Vilas, of Madison, the prospective democratic nominee for the vice presidency, is in the city, attending to legal business, being associate counsel with Mr. William Ringer, in the case of Garvin against the Northwestern railway company.

—The following young ladies will graduate at the close of the present term of our high school: Anna Doty, Mary Morris, Ella Godden, Julia Ebbin, Nellie Smith, Minnie Bump, Ada Richardson, Nellie Harris, Emma Zader, Clara Church, Grace Kirk, Danisla Heller, Sophie Grove, Cora Hunting.

—A team of horses belonging to Dr. Coon, became frightened near the depot about ten o'clock this forenoon and started on a run down in the fourth ward. They struck a tree near the German Lutheran church, when the wagon was badly wrecked, and the horse thrown down and captured. The harness was also badly broken, but the horses escaped serious hurt.

—We understand that Alderman Burnham and Kenyon contemplate putting down a concrete cross walk across Main street on the north side of East Milwaukee street, as an experiment in this city. It is said that this kind of walk fills the bill in other cities, and if so, it will be found much cheaper than the expensive flag crossings. It will not cost but a little to try it.

—Since Mr. E. J. Smith became the manager of the roller skating rink in the Norcross block, new life seems to have taken hold of it, and the young people are giving the rink a regular boom, which is justly deserved, as Mr. Smith is doing all in his power to please his patrons. The Catholic cornet band will be in attendance this evening and furnish music for the skaters.

—The steadily increasing business of the furniture establishment of Messrs. Britton & Kimball have compelled them to seek more room for storage purposes, and they have concluded to put another story on their building next to the post-office. A contract has been awarded to Messrs. Colling & Wray, of this city to do the work, and Mr. Ed. Rathbun will do the brick and stone work. The work of remodeling the building will commence next week.

—The Hon. Charles G. Williams, of Watervliet, Dakota, is in the city on a brief visit among his old friends. He came up from Chicago this afternoon. He is chairman of the committee of eight to confer with the officials of the Northwestern and the Rock Island railways relative to further railway facilities for the benefit of Watertown. Mr. Williams is looking well, and speaks in glowing terms of the advantages, the prospects and the beauties of that thirty city.

—The common council have already granted forty-five retail saloon licenses, and thirty-two wholesale licenses, the former at seventy-five dollars each, making a total sum of $3,375, and twenty-five dollars for the latter, making $875, a grand total of $4,250. According to agreement the city will pay into the county treasury the sum of fifty dollars for each retail license granted, which will take $2,250, leaving a balance in the city treasury of $1,925. It is said that other applicants will be made for retail licenses shortly, and it is thought some of the drugstores which have not applied, will also take out a wholesale license, increasing the above figures several hundred dollars.

—The United States Tobacco Journal, published in New York, under date of Saturday, May 3d, in reviewing the tobacco market, says: "The business of the week was large. Packers of 83 Wisconsin Havana seed dropped their stern and relentless demand toward prospective buyers, but nevertheless took all they could get without flinching. The estimate of the sales of this stock is 1,500 cases. The principal buyers were manufacturers. One or two jobbers invested on 'spec.' They now want 35 cents, and threaten to ask more if buyers don't respond at once. (They paid as well as the manufacturers) from 28 to 32 cents. The chances are that 35 cents will be the highest figure that will ever be paid for this stock. Samatra will prevent any further rise in price."

—The weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 57 degrees above zero. Raining with east wind. At one o'clock p.m. the register was 74 degrees above zero. Cloudy with northeast wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 48 and 72 degrees above zero.
